What is Marketing?

- Persuasion
- Information
- Aspiration
- Involves a series of strategies that create an overall effect
  - Not a science, but effect can be measured
  - Requires an understanding of people
- Details depend on what is marketed

How to do Marketing

---

- Define audience
- Understand them
- Understand competition
- Define strategy
- Define style/theme/approach, e.g. Coke
- Define campaign
- Execute
- Evaluate

Marketing Style

- Should fit with current themes (ideally)
- Can be any, or all, of:
  - Aspirational
  - Persuasive
  - Informational
  - Quirky
  - Funny
  - Serious

Media Options

- Website
  - Text, Images, Videos, Sound, ...
- DVD
  - For handing out, mailing out, ...
- Computer-based series of movies
  - Interactive?
- Note that technical delivery affects the approach needed

Marketing Our School

- Why is it important?
  - The University gets paid per student
  - We need students to teach!
- But there are yearly reducing numbers of applicants nationally
- Changing demographics and attitudes
- Choices to influence: A.Levels taken, University, School, Degree programme

Marketing Context

- Schools Liaison
  - Current students returning to schools
  - Large school events
- Events
  - UCAS, science conventions
  - First Lego League
  - Games workshops
- These span age ranges and goals

Know Your Audience

- Applicants
- Potential applicants
- Potential applicants' parents
- Conversion activity
- Schools liaison support
- Championing Computing early on
- ...

Sources of Ideas

- Reflection
  - Why did you come here?
  - What do you like best?
- Questions
  - Ask friends, family, other students here and elsewhere
- Testing
  - Concepts and ideas on target audience

Themes...

- Birmingham's theme: "We see things differently"
  - "Inspired by..."
  - Student and Graduate profiles
  - Alumni/careers

Movie Trailer and Web-site

- 2007 Team 10: Steven Marrocco, Warren Prescott, Taljinder Chhockar & Kevin Tsang
- Promotional website for a forthcoming action movie containing
  - Film Trailer
  - Information about the film
  - Downloadable content
  - Desktop wallpapers
  - Soundtrack
- The object was to attract a movie audience

Product Specification

- It must have a HTML front page to launch the Flash player
- It must have an optional HTML site for those without Flash player
- It must display the Flash website within the same template
- It must have a suitable colour scheme relating to the movie
- It must present the information in a clear, but dynamic and interesting way

Competitor Research

- Research was important to see what competitors had done successfully /unsuccessfully
- Similar Products: M:I:III, Bad Boys 2, S.W.A.T., Minority Report, etc.
- Factors analysed during research: Layout, Content, Animations, Colour Schemes, Downloadable Content, Audio, Navigation, and Typography

Conclusions from Research

- A template was needed to keep the layout consistent
- Flash was preferable to standard HTML pages as it allows more flexibility
- A theme tune playing in the background was highly desirable
- Darker colours suit the theme of the movie - a highly trained tactical team

ONE ZERO

HTML Website

The screenshot shows a dark-themed website for "One Zero". At the top center is the title "ONE ZERO" in a large, white, distressed font. Below it is a navigation bar with two columns. The left column contains links: "ONE ZERO", "» Home", "» Synopsis", "» Background", "» Tactical Information", "» View Trailer", and "» Downloadable Content". The right column contains "One Zero", "Got Flash?", and a large button labeled "LAUNCH OUR FLASH PLAYER". To the right of the button is a dark image of a soldier in a balaclava. At the bottom, there's a rating box for PG-13 and a copyright notice.
